General Comments Licensing staff arrived at the licensed facility to conduct the yearly license renewal inspection. The first group of children went to the bathroom to wash up before having their snack. Some children decided not to eat snack and began playing. After snack, one group of children, the rainbow group, went outside to play at a near-by park. The second group stayed back at the facility and engaged in a group activity consisting of cut-out pieces of cardboard, contact paper, real flower tops, and a variety of water paints. The children chose their flower tops and cut-out their cardboard pieces to make a frame. The children took the contact paper and stuck it over the hole in the frame and then stuck the flower tops on the sticky side of the paper. The children then painted the frame different colours. Some of the children who did not participate in the craft activity played with tubular swords and had a game of "sword fight." A few minutes later, the children used the same plastic tubes as hockey sticks and had a game of "mini stick" hockey. During the license renewal inspection, a child hit their leg on a piece of wooden bench and a bruise formed. The educator gave the child an ice pack and then filled out an Incident Report to inform the child's parent of the incident. The educator also set up an oblique activity in the tuff tray for the children to engage in. The educator used positive child guidance strategies with the children when needed. The children helped the educators clean up at the end of the day as parents were arriving at the facility to pick up their children. There were more than enough resources for the children to play with throughout the inspection. Licensing staff recommends the facility for renewal of license.
