General Comments The end of the year is winding down for the children and staff and I saw binders with all the preschool children's work that they did throughout the school year. The children who will be graduating from the preschool program this year will take these home with them. I also saw the father's day presents that the children were working on. Today the preschool children went to the park for the morning and had snack and lunch there, which they told me they enjoyed. Program planning is evident and children's work is displayed. The after school children arrived and they seemed eager to play with the various materials in the classroom. There is sufficient age-appropriate materials provided for all the children. I looked at the children's files and they looked good for the most part. A few were missing some information. Please ensure child files contain all required information. I looked at the staff files and they also looked good. As discussed, a couple of files are missing some pieces of information as well. Please ensure all required information is contained in the staff files. Overall the program appeared to be running smoothly on the day of my visit.
