General Comments
A monitoring inspection was conducted during the afternoon at the school-age licensed childcare facility. The Inspector observed children arriving from school and practicing proper handwashing procedures upon arrival at the facility. Children were also observed enjoying an afternoon snack with their peers. The early learning environment was observed to be prepared in advance of the children's arrival, with materials and activities appropriately set up and readily accessible. Children were engaged in a variety of developmentally appropriate activities, including building LEGO, completing puzzles, creating superhero-themed designs with Perler Beads, exploring Pokémon-related activities, and participating in a Giant Tetris game. Policy 902: Screen Time was discussed with the educators, and it was recommended that they review the supporting documentation provided by the Department of Education and Early Childhood Development. Educators were observed actively engaging with children throughout their learning and play experiences. Positive child guidance practices were consistently used to support interactions and communication with the children. One new staff member's file was reviewed and verified to contain all required documentation.
