General Comments Monitoring Inspection The school-age children were observed transitioning outdoors. Once outside, the children applied sunscreen with the help of the educators before moving to the field area. There, they engaged in a variety of activities, including playing basketball, tennis, and blitz ball alongside their educator. The educators shared that this week's theme was Ice Cream. Throughout the week, the children participated in several themed activities, including making an ice cream cake, creating an ice cream stand, and painting with puffy paint. The educators also shared that the children planned to enjoy ice cream this afternoon to conclude the week's theme activities. Several forms of documentation were visible throughout both rooms, including photographs, and children's artwork. The rooms were well organized and inviting, offering a varied supply of age-appropriate materials, books, and toys. Positive child guidance techniques were observed. The educators were seen engaging at the children's level, providing appropriate supervision, using encouraging language, offering choices, and assisting children with decision-making. A clearly visible and prominent area was designated for the posting of the facility license, current monitoring reports, and any orders for compliance. Additional documentation reviewed included incident logs, daily attendance records, six child files, one educator file, and records of evacuation and monthly fire drills.
