General Comments

When I arrived for today's monitoring inspection, both groups of children were outside playing. One group was observed playing on the sliding structure, climbing dome, digging for worms and making up dances. Educators for this group of children were observed partaking in the children's play, they were also very impressed that one of their educators was able to do a flip on the climbing dome.

The second group was in the back playground. This group was observed tracing leaves, drawing, playing "Ga-Ga Ball," and learning how to spin a basketball on one finger! Educators were observed playing Ga-Ga ball with the children and taking the time to teach/show the children how to spin a basketball.

Educators were quick to act when children required assistance. Observed a child who had kicked a ball, and while he was kicking it, his sneaker accidentally flew off his foot onto the roof of the sunshade structure. Educators were quick to console the child and reassure him that they will be able to get his sneaker down for him. Observed educator help the child tie his shoe nice and secure to his foot so as to avoid him losing it again.

When children came inside, they were able to free play until snack time. Once children were finished playing freely around the room, they were invited to sit on the carpet to discuss the plans for this afternoon. One group took the opportunity to serenade us with some songs they enjoyed singing together as a group.

Childcare manager informed me that there are some new play materials and storage units that are in the process of being made for both outside play spaces at this location.
