General Comments
The children were getting ready for outside play when I arrived. The classrooms are organized and there is evidence that the facility follows the NB Curriculum based on the purposely planned activities and learning stories posted throughout the facility. The opened, labelled shelves allow the children to have easy access to the materials. Sensory bins are set up in the rooms as well. A variety of materials was used in the bins such as sand, toy trucks, rocks, scoops, wooden cookies, rice and plastic animals. The large outdoor space allows for plenty of gross motor activities, However, there is a lack of materials for the children. There were plenty of pots and pans, but only a couple shovels and two toy trucks and some wooden blocks. There should be variety of materials and options available to the children when playing outside. The facility appeared to be running smoothly during the visit. The children seem happy and familiar with the daily routine.
