General Comments

Infants were having morning snack upon licensing staff's arrival. Educators remained seated with the infants, assisting them with their food. Both highchairs and a small table with chairs were available as both younger and older infants are in the group. Educators were aware of the infant's needs as they offered a second snack from the lunch bags to those that were still showing signs of being hungry.

The indoor spaces were clean and well-maintained. Recent art projects and learning stories from September were posted.

Transitions from snack time to playtime and to diaper changes and getting dressed for outdoors were smooth and the environment remained calm and pleasant. Educators were continuously engaged with the infants speaking softly to them and engaging in their play. Singing, clapping, laughing and hugs were observed in both indoor and outdoor environments.
