General Comments

Upon arrival the children were returning from a walk to the park. The children washed their hands and settled to eat lunch.

The educators are documenting the children's learning by using learning stories, charting, and displaying the children's work. It is evident throughout the facility. The educators should continue to develop a pre-planned program based on the children's interests and keep a daily record of it. The Operator and I discussed the benefit of having a referral made to the curriculum team to help the educators move into a more reflective documentation format.

The outdoor play space has many defined areas in it. The key to setting up the outdoor play space as learning centres are for the educators to take the accessories from the storage unit each time the children are outside. The learning centres include but are not exclusive to gross motor, dramatic play, building, art, and manipulatives. I also advised the administrator that the children can play in the outdoor play space on hot days like today as long as more shade and activities to keep the children cool are implemented.

The filing system is very organized and was easily verified.
