General Comments
A Monitoring Inspection was conducted this morning. Children were observed during inside play and snack. Children were observed painting, building with magnetic tiles and Lego, playing with Play Doh, and playing in the dramatic play area. Several forms of documentation were observed - photos of the children taking part in activities, children's artwork, height chart, children's binders full of completed pieces of artwork, and learning stories. Several well-defined learning / play areas were observed, some of which included arts and crafts, science and math, building, reading, and dramatic play. Children's interests are currently dinosaurs, dentist, building, and dramatic play. A chart was observed on the wall, identifying all of the present interests. Children were observed washing their hands before and after snack.
