General Comments A renewal inspection occurred on the full day school-age program. Upon arrival at the childcare facility. Licensing observed that the children were outside making containers for an egg drop experiment they were conducting with their educator. The children were observed placing an egg in a cup, adding paper for padding around the egg, adding a balloon to help it float to the ground and taping it all together to create a holder for the egg experiment. Licensing observed the children dropping the eggs from a safe height to see if any would crack and then the educator was observed dropping them from a higher height and the children would see if their eggs were broken or safe during the experiment. Some eggs remained whole while others broke. Licensing observed that the educator ensured that the children washed their hands numerous times when handling the eggs. During the inspection, the children remained outside. Having morning snacks and lunch outside as well as participating in playing a game of football and socializing with their peers. Licensing observed the children participating in a slip and slide with their peers in the backyard. Operator/Educator indicated that this week the children are participating in field trips. Going to the library, Cineplex, and the Pumpkin Patch. Facility is recommended for license renewal.
