Comments: Licensing Staff observed Educators in one of the Infant Rooms using a harsh tone and words such as "Sit. No. You're fine. Oh, she's a drama queen." while speaking with the infants. The Educator also stated they would be withholding the special afternoon snack.

General Comments
Licensing Staff arrived at the Facility to conduct a Monitoring Inspection. Upon arrival, the 3-year-old-class and 4-year-old-class were in the gym playing while the other classes were preparing for morning snack. After snack, Educators in the Junior Infant class were observed putting snowsuits, hats and mittens on the infants to prepare to go outside for a walk and the outdoor play area. The classrooms were tidy, bright and welcoming. The classes have started decorating for the holidays. String lights decorated trees and snowflake crafts were displayed throughout the facility. As the classes finished morning snack, some prepared to go outside while others went to the gym before transitioning outside. In the 3-year-old classroom, the children had free play after morning snack. A small group of children played doctor, using a doctor kit and stuffed animals who were sick. Another child built a large tower using magnetic blocks. The Educator sat on the carpet with the children and was actively engaged. Later, the children listened as the Educator read "Same, Same" by Marthe Jocelyn and Tom Slaughter. The Educator paused throughout the story, asking questions and engaging the children in the story. Upstairs in the gym, the children were heard laughing and singing as the ran together. Other children were observed playing with balls, riding on plasma cars and walking on connected balancing stones. Head counts were observed as the children transitioned back to their classroom for lunch time. Webbing, current learning stories and documentation of learning was observed throughout. It is evident the children are familiar with the daily routine and Educators.
