General Comments
All staff files now contain current First Aid certificates from approved providers as outlines by WorksSafe NB. All preschool classrooms were observed having books at time of follow up inspection. The majority of the preschool classrooms are now set up with clearly labelled learning centers/stations. Please ensure that Silly Street is also set up this way. This will help educators with adding/changing children's play materials. All preschool classrooms were observed having materials that provide opportunities to express creativity and interests. All preschool classrooms were observed having materials that provide opportunities to explore the arts and sciences. Play material that was observed to be removed from preschool classrooms have now been put back in. Children's belongings from Lullaby Lane are no longer being piled together on the floor by the nap room door. They are now being hung up behind the nap room door upon their arrival. Educators then move the children's belonging to the back of the room on their hooks once children are settled. A reminder that educators have until August 31st, 2024, to complete their required amount of Professional Learning Hours as outlined in the Designation Handbook. A reminder that in order to provide a quality childcare service for children, the daily program/planning should include a variety of activities purposely planned to the ages and development of the children. Educators from Adventure Island divide the group in two for diaper changing, this way the children's wait time is not as long.

General Comments

Books for children in Adventure Island room are being stored in a wooden box/crate. It is recommended to have books displayed front facing so that the children can see the front of the book (ie. little leaning book shelf, front facing book shelf, wall mounted shelves). Displaying books with the cover out provides children who can't yet read an insight into the content of a book.

Should you wish to have additional assistance with curriculum planning, Quality Assurance Monitor can reach out to the district team to provide additional curriculum support for preschool educators. Please inform Quality Assurance Monitor via email should you wish to have additional support brought into the facility.
