General Comments

Monitoring visit performed - no deficiencies noted during my visit. The centre is inviting and organized and stations are easily accessible to school age children.

Upon arrival school children were either finishing lunch or involved in a quiet reading activity. This afternoon, licensing staff observed programming stations set up - reading corner, dramatic play area, lego, board game, coloring, cross words, making bracelets with elastics, etc. All children are playing cooperatively, in small groups or by themselves. Educators were observed interacting with children in the different centres asking questions, assisting, and offering suggestions. It is my understanding that educators and children will be going outdoors later in the afternoon. The children were invited by the educator to complete a craft - it was another option made available. On Fridays most children only have a 1/2 day of school, so the Educators try to provide some extra activities. Many children participated in the craft which allowed children to choose their own accessories and colors for the activity.

Administrative records were reviewed - attendance, outdoor check lists are being completed. Fire drills are practiced monthly and documented - good timing and performed at different times.
