General Comments

The ELC home has an active program. I observed the children painting pumpkins for Halloween, and then playing with various toys and materials. The operator was very involved in the activities with the children and I observed an abundance of positive child guidance techniques such as gentle reminders, encouragement, distraction, and time reminders. She was very responsive to the needs of the children and was flexible in her approaches to meet the unique ways that children learn and relate to others.

The child and staff files are complete and include all necessary documentation and the environment is clean and appears safe. The operator is doing well to follow the COVID guidelines and she meets all licencing regulations. I recommend her licence for renewal.
