General Comments

I was screened upon arrival and the ELC home appears to be following COVID guidelines. The operator and children were just getting back from a walk as I arrived. Upon coming into the house, the children washed their hands and had a snack. While eating snack, they listened to the song "The Old Lady who Swallowed a Fly, and the operator told me they had been interested in this lately. Then they had time for free play and I observed great use of the curriculum. One child started an activity, more children joined in and the operator encouraged and helped advance this opportunity. In the end, the children made a big , sticky 'spider web' with the tape. The children had lots of fun creating and playing in the web and the activity lasted quite a long time! The operator commented that this would make a good learning story.

The indoor play area appears clean and has a variety of materials and they are accessible to the children. The attendance records have been kept up to date and fire drills are being completed and documented monthly. This afternoon they plan to use the slip and slide as it is going to be warm and sunny, and also take out a big roll of paper the children can use to create art.

Everything appears to be going well, and the program is well planned and child-led. The operator demonstrated very good positive child guidance techniques throughout my visit and the children appear comfortable with the operator ,and in the space.
