General Comments

Monitoring visit performed - no compliances observed during my visit. Upon arrival children had finished snack and then the Operator proceeded to go to the programming room downstairs. Administrative records were reviewed and these are being documented monthly. Please ensure you perform and document a fire inspection. The Operator has a lovely inviting indoor space for the children to explore different activities - lots of books, the children love books and though the Operator planned to read a book to the children this AM, they had other ideas and were more interested in taking turns playing in the kitchen centre, looking at books, playing with cars etc. Lovely that the Operator takes cues from the children and programming is flexible. Lots of wonderful programming posted. Children have pictures of their families on display, they have been learning about diversity (the children come from different cultural backgrounds and French and Arabic languages beside English is spoken in the family home). I suggested labelling different items in all languages to aid in language development. The operator can also read to the children in all the 3 different languages and the parents have loaned books to the Operator. This is so wonderful!! The children have been learning about the seasons also. Lots of positive conversation and interaction observed. Children were also observed getting ready for outdoor play time and the Operator engages with the children outdoors. She is planning to have built or purchase a mud kitchen. I would also recommend to check depth recommendations for protective surfacing of the small play structure outdoors. The children really enjoy playing on it. I would also recommend the operator keep an outdoor maintenance checklist for toys and equipment.
