General Comments

The children were playing with wooden building blocks and carpentry tools when I arrived. As it was close to snack time, the operator advised the children that it would be "clean up time in 5 minutes to get ready for snack." The operator provides morning and afternoon snack. This morning's snack was cheese, cucumbers and crackers.

After snack the children played in the sensory bins. One bin had sand, rocks and seashells. The other bin had water, plastic sea animals, rocks and seashells. There were also water droppers and scoops to use in the bins. The operator promotes independence with the children, as seen when they were getting ready for outdoor playtime and getting ready for lunch. Even the youngest child was able to get their outdoor shoes on. When they came inside from outdoor play, the children washed their hands and got their lunch bags off the shelf and sat at the table to eat.

The operator is constantly engaged with the children, whether through conversation or participating in the activity with the child. She makes sure each child receives individual attention.

The room is very clean and organized. There are plenty of natural and "life like materials" that make the facility warm and welcoming.
