General Comments Upon Licensing staff arrival, there was one child in attendance due to a planned delayed opening and later in the morning, 3 other children arrived for the day. Children were observed having cut up apples for snack and then played freely with various materials. The play space was bright and clean. Material such as baskets of loose play toys, books, trains, sensory blocks, and wooden puzzles were tidy and easily accessible to the children. Children enjoyed playing with a pretend BBQ and accessories, a wooden puzzle with latches as well as a small shopping cart. Art supplies are readily available, and children's artwork is on display on a bulletin board. The operator was actively engaged with all the children. During story time, the operator read the Barnyard Dance. The children danced and laughed together. When a second short story was read, the operator was observed asking the children questions about their families. The operator offered kind words of encouragement and used a soft tone of voice when helping children problem solve and work through their emotions. There is evidence of lesson planning and daily activities. The outdoor play space is fully fenced and there is an ample amount of outdoor play material such as a sand box with trucks, frisbees, a slide and playhouse. The parent board is at the main entrance and contains the weekly snack menu and all required documentation. Monthly fire drills are being completed and logged accordingly and daily attendance records are being kept. Licensing staff recommends for renewal.
