General Comments Environment set up with an abundance of materials neatly displayed to invite children's engagement. Observation and activities sheet is a great tool for documenting activities the children have engaged in as well as educator observations of children's interests. During monitoring inspection a balance of indoor and outdoor activities observed. Educators are very attentive to children engaging in play and conversation. Great to see educators greet each child upon arrival, welcoming them to the program and asking about their day. Transitions observed to run smoothly.
