General Comments

There were three children present on the day of my visit.

There are plenty of materials that are easily accessible for the children to enjoy. During my visit the children participated in a range of activities such as blocks, mark making and reading stories. The operator had a sensory bin set up with fake snow, dump truck, cookie cutters and numerous other materials in the bin.

The operator is attentive and nurturing with the children. She engages the children in conversation during every activity.

The files are organized and in proper order.
