General Comments

Licensing staff arrived at the early learning and childcare home to conduct the license renewal inspection while the children were engaging in free play activities.

The children washed up for morning snack time and then sat down to have their snack before heading outside to meet another group of children at the park to meet with Miss Debbie from Talk-With-Me and a local author for who read the children a Remembrance book for children.

The children sang songs and danced before the author read her new children's book. After the book reading, the children and educators walked along the trail in the woods off the park for a scavenger hunt to find poppies the author made for each child.

Once the children found the poppies, they went to play on the playground until it was time to go back to the early learning and childcare home for lunch.

Licensing staff recommends the early learning and childcare home for their license renewal.
