| Comments: During the monitoring inspection, the Quality Assurance Monitor observed that the attendance record of children was not accurate in one of the classrooms. Two children were not signed in. Educators must ensure that the attendance record of children is completed each time a child arrives and leaves. The attendance records must be accurate and reflect all children present at any given time. The educator immediately signed in the 2 children. Deficiency is now compliant |            |                      |                |
