General Comments
The inspector was on site to conduct a renewal inspection. During the morning outdoor play period, children and the educator were engaged in sensory play using real-life materials such as plungers, casserole dishes, and water. Lunch, free play, and the transition to the rest period were also observed, during which the educator provided children with a movement activity to support a smooth transition to rest time. Positive child guidance practices were demonstrated throughout the inspection, and the required child-to-staff ratio was maintained at all times.
