General Comments
When I arrived at the center the children were having a discussion about the volcano in Iceland. After the discussion completed the new topic was medical technology in which the children watched a video about polio. While I reviewed the staff files and children's records the children went out side for morning snack and had an outdoor math lesson then they came inside for some Zumba dancing. The children asked me to go for a walk with them so they could show me one of the parks they go to . After returning from the walk the children were going home for the afternoon. The center provides various activities for the children. The outdoor classroom is very important in their curriculum.
