General Comments Upon arrival, I observed two children creating art using a wide variety of materials. The children were creating cased roses, painting on canvasses and making crowns out of large pipe cleaners. The administrator provides the materials and allows the children to create whatever they choose. The operator had taken some of the most favorite artwork that the children had completed, framed it and posted them at the entrance and in the cubby area. The children later moved onto the rug and played Guess Who. They also filled balloon with shaving cream, put them in plastic bags and busted them. The Operator has planned a field trip oriented summer. The schedule is filled with trips to the Ayr Motor pool, a camp ground where they can bike and other community events. Permission slips have been signed by the parent(s) for each outing. The Operator listens intently to the children and engages in conversation with them. The children are encouraged to ask questions and respond to the questions that the Operator asks in return. The children were encouraged to tell licensing staff stories too. The Operator stated that they have not had any reason to do an incident log, and has not had any illness within the facility. There are currently only 3 children enrolled. All documentation was verified. I can recommend facility for licensing.
