General Comments Positive child guidance practices were observed. Educators were engaged with the children and could be seen talking with them, offering choices and assisting the children in decision making. The children's artwork was not only exhibited in the inside but also in the outdoors. They appeared to be open ended activities and developmentally appropriate. Licensing staff observed written learning stories for both the inside and the outside. The programming at this facility incorporates the interests of the children, allows for spontaneous activities, reflects the changes in weather and is flexible to accommodate the needs of the children. Licensing staff arrived during drop off time and parent(s) were met outside the door and asked if their child were exhibiting illness signs. Educators then escorted to the sink to wash their hands and then to their classroom. The guidelines for the Management of Illness were being followed at time of visit. There was a child who became ill while at the facility and Operator followed regulations. The child's temperature was taken, he was excluded, parent(s) were called and arrived within 1 hour of notification. Operator filled out the potential illness form and had parent sign it. Licensing staff can recommend facility for renewal pending current Fire and Health inspections.
