General Comments
Licensing staff conducted the renewal inspection. The program consists of an infant group for children over 15 months, a two-year-old group, and a mixed-age preschool group. An after-school program is also offered. Upon arrival, children in the preschool group were engaged in free play. A variety of materials were available, including cars, race tracks, a dramatic play area, different blocks, dolls, and colouring and cutting activities. The two-year-old group was engaged in colouring fall-themed pictures. In the infant group, the educator was observed reading a book to the children before setting up a painting activity. The educator provided painting bibs, and the children were able to freely explore and paint using shared paint materials at the table. This activity provided opportunities for the children to practice their fine motor skills and dexterity. The mixed-age preschool group was also observed engaging with a sensory table before transitioning outdoors. The outdoor play area is currently undergoing construction to create a fenced-in area for infants. As this constitutes a change to the service, the operator is reminded to follow the applicable procedures and submit the required application(s) when changes are being made to the licensed space. Licensing staff will visit the outdoor play area prior to it being reopened for use. While the playground is under construction, the groups utilized alternative outdoor opportunities, including walks within the community and the open grass area located behind the building. The two-year-old group returned from a stroller walk and engaged in free play with the materials available in the classroom. The infants then headed outside with the stroller. Later, everyone was back inside for lunch time. The groups then washed their hands while educators prepared the children's lunches. Following lunch, children transitioned to their individual cots for nap time, with personal belongings from home. Diaper changing routines were done. Child files were reviewed. The operator is reminded to ensure that all child files contain current immunization records. Staff files reviewed were in compliance. The after-school group was not observed during this inspection. This has been noted for the Quality Assurance Monitor to follow up on during their next inspection.

General Comments

Licensing staff recommends the program for renewal.
