General Comments

On the day of my visit the children had gone for a walk to the frog pond. When the group returned they had some free play time in the outdoor play space. The children dug holes in the sandbox, while others relaxed in the hammock. One of the children found a huge worm in the grass
 I was able to tour the center and read the numerous learning stories that were posted throughout the facility. There is evidence of planned programming and there were learning invitations set up in each room. Staff files were updated and reviewed as new staff members have been hired.
