General Comments

The Quality Assurance Monitor is on site in the morning to conduct a monitoring inspection. The child-to-staff ratio is maintained throughout the visit.

The Quality Assurance Monitor observed that all required information is posted in a visible and prominent location within the facility.

The indoor play area is observed to be clean, well maintained, and accessible to children. Materials and equipment are available and accessible to support children's play and activities.

The Quality Assurance Monitor observed that all toxic products, chemical products, and cleaning supplies are inaccessible to children and secured in locked storage areas.

During the monitoring inspection, the Quality Assurance Monitor observed children eating snacks, participating in indoor free play, and playing at the splash pad. Positive interactions between educators and children were observed throughout the visit.

A discussion took place between the Administrator and the Quality Assurance Monitor regarding supervision practices at the splash pad. During the visit, the Quality Assurance Monitor observed one educator supervising five preschool children while some children were playing in the splash pad area and others were using the play structure located within the same space. On more than one occasion, the educator attended to children on the play structure while their attention was directed away from the children playing in the water area.

The Quality Assurance Monitor discussed the observation with the Administrator and recommended considering additional supervision strategies when children are using both areas simultaneously. Suggestions included assigning a second educator or establishing a staff positioning plan to support continuous supervision of all children.
