In their indoor learning environment documentation supporting their learning is displayed on the walls for the children to revisit. A web and documentation of the process of building a robot with recycled materials is displayed and the robot is placed in their outdoor classroom.
Each of the three indoor learning environments on this license were set up a wide variety of open-ended loose parts and materials for the children to explore and engage with.
Educators were observed engaged with the children in their learning and exploration of the outdoor classroom. They were also observed speaking appropriately and kindly to the children in their care.
