General Comments Children were painting paper plate pumpkins when I arrived for today's visit, they were also observed experimenting with what happens when you mix different colors together. Once they were finished painting and cleaned up, they got ready to go outside. Educators gave the children the choice of what outside play space they wanted to play in this morning. They decided to play in the in space that has the smaller play structure. Children were observed playing on the structure, playing with trucks, digging, and running around. The children were enjoying themselves outside so much, that the educators asked them if they wanted to eat lunch outside at the picnic tables! Educators ensured to sanitize the tables and the children's hands before and after they ate. At quiet time, the children who wanted a cot were provided one, and those who did not were able to play with quiet activities at tables. Should diapering still be going on when most children are ready to go outside, it is recommended that they are provided with an activity to do, a group song, or a game to play while they are waiting to go outside. This will help transition time run smoother and will require less redirection/gentle reminders. Please ensure that once Inclusion Support Workers have completed their "Tools for Inclusion" webinar that their certificate of completion is placed in their staff file for compliance purposes.
