General Comments

The children were engaged in play when I arrived this morning. One group did circle time and read a book together. Around 10:00 a.m. the children were asked to wash their hands and then had a snack. The children were observed playing with puzzles, playdough, blocks and reading books. The children got ready to go outside around 11:00 am.

The staff were engaged with the children, sitting on the floor with them, signing and partaking in their games. The staff were heard speaking to the children in a respectful and calm manner and using please and thank you when speaking to the children.

The staff was heard encouraging children, celebrating accomplishments, and providing positive reinforcement. The space is clean and organized. There is sufficient quantity and choices of materials for all children. The playground was inspected and meets regulations; however, it was covered in snow.

Everything is in compliance; I recommend for renewal.
