| General Comments Inspection was done during the morning/early afternoon so school age children were not present at time of visit. Children were partaking in free play when I arrive, I noticed that the educators had set up Halloween themed invitations to play at two tables for the children to explore should they decide. Educators used music to get children's attention so that they could clean up for welcome/circle time. Children were amazed at the construction workers that were paving just outside their classroom window. Educators let the children who were interested in watching the workers stay at the window during welcome/circle time. Once snack was finished, everyone got ready to go play outside. When outside the children (and educators) had a blast running and jumping in the pile of leaves that were in the wooded area of their outside play space! Educators were observed playing with the children at all times while outside along with several head counts to ensure everyone's safety. |
