General Comments

The children were sitting at a small table making "pumpkin soup" inspired by a book they read. The environment is set up with a variety of resources accessible to children. A halloween theme is evident in the space. Documentation is posted throughout the space at the children's level so they can enjoy and revisit. The children set up an obstacle course with soft blocks and encouraged one another to try it. A larger art area has been set up as the children are really enjoying art activities. Children washed their hands before snack and sat at the kitchen table to enjoy snack together. When children were done, they visited the washroom and started to get their outdoor wear on to go for a walk. The children enjoyed a walk down the street to visit a small library and view all the halloween decorations. Children collected leaves and sticks on their walk back for later activities. Some parents and community members have been visiting the centre to read books and have discussions. The operator was patient with the children and encouraged them in self-help skills and giving choices. She gave reminders for transitions and attended to children's bumps and disagreements quickly.
