General Comments

Licensing staff arrived at the Early Learning and Childcare Home just before the children sat down to have their morning snack.

After morning snack, the children and the operator had a fire drill and then proceeded to go on a neighborhood walk. The children and the operator walked to the Botanical Garden, but it was closed so they went to play at the "secret playground" in the neighborhood. While at the "secret park," the children played on the monkey bars and had a reading break at the top of the children's sized slide. Just before leaving the park, the children saw a dead bug on the picnic table and asked the operator what it was. The operator replied that it was a decaying bug. The children did not understand what "decaying" was and the operator described that when a bug dies it will break down into smaller pieces and other bugs may use the shell for their home.

When the children returned to the Early Learning and Childcare Home, they washed up for lunch. The children ate their lunch outside on the deck as it was a beautiful sunny day.

Once the children finished eating their snack they washed up again before reading a book and having quiet time.

Licensing staff recommends the Early Learning and Childcare Home for license renewal.
