General Comments
A renewal inspection occurred today. Children were observed indoors due to high winds and rain. Children entered the room, washed hands and sat down to eat their snacks brought from home. The environment was set up and ready for the children's arrival and for them to have free play after snack. The educators displayed different forms of documentation throughout the physical space that are co-created with the children at eye level. The gingerbread cardboard houses demonstrate children's ongoing group project work and individual work in progress. Educators had purposely planned activities and understand the potential of the environment as the 'third teacher' They take into account the strengths, interests and desires of all the children in their care as they select and organize space, equipment and materials. All staff and children's files were observed and complete. One staff member missing SD check.
