General Comments

When I arrived the children were in the outdoor play space. They were enjoying some free playtime. They were involved in a range of activities from running around the trees, throwing snowballs over the bank and a couple were relaxing on the tree branches.

They came in for snack time. Proper hand washing procedures were followed.

As they four year old group was having snack they afterschool children began to arrive. They washed their hands and had snack before heading out for outdoor play time.

The facility is clean, bright and has many natural materials which gives the centre a cozy feeling.

The educators are supportive to the children giving plenty of encouragement during activities as this was noted when the children connected pieces of connectors together that went around the perimeter of the table.
