General Comments

When licencing staff arrived the children were out in the forest. After a quick meeting with the operator, I was taken to where the children were located. They were having some free play time. The picnic tables were set up with paper and marking utensils so the children could create their own treasure map for an activity they were going to do after lunch.

While in the forest the children are required to wear orange vests so they can easily be seen. The educators counted the children numerous times while I was there. The children seem familiar with the routine of being in the forest. They showed me where the boundaries were for the area, they were in.

The children also had a chance to weed the garden during the visit. The staff have laminated pictures and names of different weeds that grow in the garden. With these pictures, and the help of the educators, the children were able weed the garden. They seemed to have a great time looking for "lamb's quarters"

While one educator was getting the tables ready for lunch, putting a plastic tablecloth on the picnic tables and sanitizing, the other educator read stories to the children. The stories of day were "The paper Bag Princess" and "School Rules".

Proper hygiene was followed before lunch. Children's hands were cleaned and sanitized before they started to eat.

Positive child guidance and encouraging words were observed from the educators during the visit.
