There is sufficient quantity for all children present. - Observations: 2-year-old room: During the visit the children went on an excursion with the educators in the community to gather natural elements to create a bracelet. During transitions the educators sang songs with the children. Upon my departure the children were having lunch. 3-4-year-old room: The children were working on a group project involving a pumpkin. During the activity the educators were discussing with the children. The children went outside to play during the visit. - Discussion with the administrator concerning documentation and planification of the activities and the outdoor play area. I recommend that the climbing structure that is on the right-hand side of the parc not be used until the manufacturer's instruction manual has been obtained.
