General Comments
I arrived for a monitoring visit while children were napping. One child no longer naps and so she was playing quietly. When the children wake up, the operator is prompt in getting them. She is also quick to meet the needs of the children. The children who were awake were playing and the operator was actively involved in play with the children. The operator awoke the others after two hours, adhering to the licencing regulations. I looked at the child files and all necessary documentation was included. They were well organized. Please remember to update medicare numbers as they expire. I also looked at administrative files and everything has been kept up to date. It appeared that the program was running well.
