General Comments
Monitoring inspection completed today. Children engaged in play in both the indoor and outdoor environments today. The indoor environments are welcoming with a variety of materials and invitations set up for children to invite their engagement. A variety of sensory activities, invitations with a focus on literacy development and an abundance of creative art materials accessible for the children were some activities available today. Documentation posted in the environment demonstrated activities and learning the children had been doing including documentation of an artist study in room 6. A book containing recent learning stories was displayed on the shelf in room 5 accessible to the children. Opportunities for children to see themselves in their environment builds a sense of identity and belonging and invites children to revisit their past work. When children are provided with these opportunities it encourages them to share with others and to continue to think about what they have learned and activities they have done. This supports educators to extend children's learning and to think deeply about how they provide for the children. Ensure documentation posted on the walls is dated.
