General Comments
I went for a visit in the morning. There were no children present at the time of my visit, but the operator and I had a discussion about how things were going. The operator said things were going well, and we clarified what was needed in financial records and how to document vaccinations of operator and associated persons. We talked about cleaning and about the 1000 ppm needed for a bleach solution in an outbreak. The operator is keeping on top of cleaning in her ELC home. We also talked about programming. The operator is writing down programming ideas and activities and adding observations of how things went. We discussed that I will also be looking for observations of children's interests written down to help with the program planning. I asked about documentation and the operator has pictures and learning stories on the wall. The learning stories contain a variety of observations of what the children are doing and learning, and also tie back to the curriculum framework. They are well written. I will visit again another time to observe the program while children are present.
