General Comments

When I arrived the Infant and two-year old class had gone for a walk to the park. The 4-year-old children were having their graduation pictures taken. The 3-year-old group was in the outdoor play space. There is evidence of purposely planned programming as see by the learning stories and children's artwork posted on the walls. Each room has a schedule posted for the planned activities for the week. The infants room theme for the week is " Tasty Treats". Each day there is a craft activity planned make a watermelon, ice cream cones, lemon aid, pineapple and a popsicle suncatcher. The two-year-old children had a sensory bin with rice, noodles, rakes, flowers and egg carton pots. They will be painting rock this week and placing them around the building for the other children to see. Friday they will be planting seeds. Once graduation pictures were done the 4- year-old children came to the outdoor play space. They were busy making birthday cakes, muffins, "french fry cookies" and chicken fingers in the mud kitchen. Some of the other children built a castle with the large plastic blocks. The educators were engaged with the children, playing frisbee, soccer, and helping them build the castle. It is recommended that the large red wooden spool be removed from the outdoor play space as it is becoming wobbly.
