General Comments

Monitoring Inspection - First Monitoring Inspection in new building.
Full Day Summer Program.

Children and educators observed engaged in a variety of activities today. Invitations are set-up throughout the indoor play area for children to explore.

The children's current interests (biking, librarian, bowling, art, checkers, and The Gruffalo) are evident through documentation, planned activities and materials added to the environment. A library has been set up within the dramatic play area. Children were observed "checking books out" on the laptop and organizing their library with new books. One educator and a small group of children were observed engaging in bike repairs outdoors. Another small group and educator were working on a group project, creating costumes and props for "The Gruffalo" play.

The whole group had spent the morning at the local park. Educators had brought purposefully planned activities to the park and some materials for free choice. Materials included a bowling game, open ended art materials, a parachute and games.

Hand washing routines observed.
