General Comments

The Quality Assurance Monitor is on-site for a monitoring inspection. During the inspection, the Quality Assurance Monitor was able to observe photos of children engaging in winter activities in the classroom. An invitation to play was observed on the tables where children were invited to draw easter eggs. The Quality Assurance Monitor observed pine and maple tree seedlings as well as other seedling starters in the classroom. The indoor play material and equipment was appropriate for the age group and was in sufficient quantity for the group of children intended.

The ratio was respected during the inspection.
