General Comments

Licensing staff arrived at the licensed early learning and child care home while the children were transitioning from the indoor to outdoor play environment.

While outdoors, the children were observed piling up the leaves and placing them into tires. The educators observed the children wanting their own tire to pile the leaves into and made additional tires available to all children. The educators and children also played soccer with the children while engaging in play in the outdoor play environment.

Licensing staff noted a good variety of play materials in both the indoor and outdoor play environments.

All files were complete with the required documentation.

While the educators and children engaged in play, the educators encouraged the children using positive child guidance strategies such as redirection, encouraging the children to use their words instead of their "hands" when they are upset with their friends.

Licensing staff recommends the license for renewal.
