Examples of materials to add to enhance creativity and engagement include child-sized shovels, buckets, funnels, bubbles, watering cans, various-sized balls, art materials, and outdoor games such as bean bag toss, parachutes, hula hoops, frisbees, skipping ropes, etc. Original comply by date September 26, 2025

General Comments
A Monitoring Inspection occurred in the afternoon on January 14, 2026 The children were observed in both the indoor and outdoor environment, including the transition between the two. Indoors: The children were observed playing Connect 4 alongside their educator, building with Lego, drawing at the table, playing with slime, and engaging in board games. Before transitioning outdoors, the children were observed eating snack, with handwashing occurring beforehand. Snack today was yogurt and blueberries. Outdoors: The children were observed using hammocks, playing with ice in the puddles, and building with sticks in the wooded area. The educators indicated that the children are currently interested in Lego, identifying flags, crafts, outdoor activities, particularly building with sticks in the wooded area. Educators demonstrated positive interactions by using encouraging language and gentle reminders. They asked open-ended questions, listened actively, and extended children's ideas through conversations. A clearly visible and prominent area was designated for posting the facility's license, current monitoring reports, menu, and any orders for compliance. Additional documentation observed included incident logs, daily attendance records, two staff files, and records of evacuation and monthly fire drills.

A conversation took place with the educators regarding the following:

- ☐ It is recommended that educators include more detailed descriptions in their planning book to reflect the intent and outcomes of activities. Adding photos of the learning experiences will provide visual documentation and support a richer understanding of the children's engagement.
- ☐ Administrator to add the most recent renewal from May 9, 2025, inspection to parent board.
