The operator must ensure that all toxic products, chemical agents, and cleaning supplies are securely locked and inaccessible to children. The educator promptly returned the product to its designated first aid kit.Deficiency is now compliant |                           |                                             |                |
