Comments: When licensing staff arrived, the ratio in the Afterschool Room was 1-16. To ensure that children are appropriately supervised at all times, the child-to-staff ratio must be maintained. A discussion occurred with Operator. Relief staff was called to come in early.  Deficiency is now compliant

General Comments
Licensing staff arrived to introduce new Quality Assurance Monitor and perform monitoring inspection. Upon arrival, the school-aged children were observed playing basketball, coloring, dancing and singing on the stage, playing stuffed animals and dollhouses. Handwashing was observed as the children prepared for snack time. The operator was seen cleaning the tables once the children were finished snack and the transition from snack to activities was smooth. Once second educator arrived, some children were brought downstairs while the rest of the group stayed upstairs with Operator. In the preschool classrooms the educators were seen playing and engaging with the children at their level. In one class the children were looking out the window at the rain. The educator followed their interest in Tornado's and sat by the window with them, reading a story related to the weather. In another classroom the children were making an ocean craft together. The children enjoyed looking through Ocean books, sensory bottles and ocean puppets. All classrooms were organized, clean and inviting. Cleaning checklists were seen in all rooms and daily attendance is being recorded. The Parent Boards are filled with learning stories, Welcome Stories and process art. The rooms have lots of natural light and play material is in good condition. Hand washing before lunch was observed. The transition from lunch to quiet time was smooth and calm. Calming music was played as the children finished their lunch. Children sat quietly playing on their mat until everyone was finished eating.
