General Comments

Children were having snack upon arrival or licensing staff. All children had their own labeled water bottle. The operator was observed wiping down the table after the children finished eating.

Children then went to the indoor play area for free play and enjoyed the foam couch, which was built into a cave and slide, the children sat inside with a toy fire and roasting sticks. The room contained materials that were developmentally appropriate for the younger children that attend with no small pieces that could be swallowed. The home had activity areas in place which included a low balance beam, basketball and net, reading corner, tools, kitchen area, puzzles, stacking, sorting and matching materials.

Art activities were posted on the walls and used a variety of mediums such as stickers, paint, glue and pastel crayons.

Diapering area was observed to be well maintained, organized and clean. All items were labeled and separated for each child.

Associated people that are spending a lot of time within the home and with the children are required to have a criminal record and social development check on file.

Children were observed having their lunch from home while the operator sat with them and engaged in pleasant conversations with the children.

Positive behaviour guidance was observed at all times and the operator modeled a calm and kind demeanor for the children.
